Show

On SCI's Halloween there was more than half the school dressed in costumes for the day. It was a festive day with classic pumpkin carving which was won by Mr. Bedard's block A class. Student Council ran a "Haunted House" at lunch hour in room 99. Other classes, like Sra. Ramos's grade ten class (top left), were filled with both the more classic and other very unique costumes. Jennifer Bramhill and Jessica Helps were getting prepared for the day. Nico Williams and Doug Henry (middle left) were stalking the halls between classes. Then, all "rounded up" in the cafeteria were Beth Moran, Christine Nicol and Kelby Leich (center). Mummy Justin Romanik gives a wave (bottom left). Amanda Hay, Tamara Eyre, and Dan Harrett (top right) were only some of those dressed up (bottom center), and Amanda Fillion gives a big smile.

Oh my goodness, free candy in Canada for Halloween!?

Back for More in 2004!

The girls' kickline (top left) was one of many wonderful productions for this years' Revue. Others included grade ten dance (top right,) grade nine dance (middle, right), guy's dance (below), senior grades dance (bottom right) and the mixed grades dance (bottom left). They all helped to be part of a spectacular show. This year there were more dances than skits.

Retirees' Mrs. Elliott

Mrs. Laureen Elliott was a relative late-comer to the teaching profession. She earned her B.A. in Mathematics in 1970 and an M.B.A. in 1975. During that time she was a research assistant in the engineering department at the University of Waterloo. She then became the Information Systems Co-ordinator for the City of Toronto. This was followed by a lengthy period of home management when she and her husband Bob raised their two children Elizabeth and Charles. Elizabeth is currently a resident in internal medicine at the University of Toronto, and Charles works with Bell Canada as a Management Consultant.

After earning her B.Ed. in 1992, Mrs. Elliott began teaching (her fourth career!). She found the dynamics of teaching the most interesting, challenging and rewarding of them all. Perhaps a fifth career awaits Mrs. Elliott, but until it arises, she will spend more time with her husband and best friend, Bob, her family, her community and church activities.

GRADE 9 WELCOME WEEK

The annual Welcome Week encouraged grade nines' school spirit and participation in all of the amazing SCITS clubs and activities. Welcome week was great success. As was one of the activities, Dustin Ireson sings an adapted bomber related song as Joann Johnston and Stacy Tompson (top, left) watch and figure out how many points it earns for his class. In one of the following events Rhiannan Jones eats chocolate pudding with cornflakes (top, right). Then, the Grade 12's, Laura Ireson, Alyssa Minor, Ashlea Sherman, Joann Johnston, Stacy Thompson, Amanda Fillion, Jessica Smith and Beth Moran, were looking great in their SCI 'bomber gear' (centre) while giving directions for one of the events.

All the while, the 'Porkey Pigs' were dressing the part, which consisted of Mrs Amlin's grade 9 gym class of Amber Dell, Rachel Rauws, Ashley LaBarre, Courtney Leveille, Sarah Campbell, Lauren Miller, Amanda Weston, and Nicole Preiss (bottom, left).

Nico had described the week as, "(Welcome Week)'s fun, you get to know people."

Jesse Bucci carries a egg on a spoon (top, middle) careful not to let it fall. Next, Mr White, Curtis Ginn, Andrew Martin, Stephanie McKellar and Jason Hodgins sing the country themed song adapted for the week ( top, right).

Throughout the week teams had collected points based upon their performance in activities. A poster was put up infront of Gym AB as a score tablet for the teams. Yet, the activities that had been planned for Thursday had been missed out on (for the last chance to compete for the first place standing), due to a fog day. The Blue Horses; Stacy Collins, Curtis Tuckey, Colin Jolly, Brendan Kelly, Justin Little, Kyle Myers, and Nicolas McRae (bottom left) were the first place team. Additionally, classes collected all their loose change to see their favourite teacher kiss a barnyard animal. In first place, Ms. Catton kissed a young goat and in second place, Mr. B. Lynch kissed a bunny. The money raised went to a local charity.

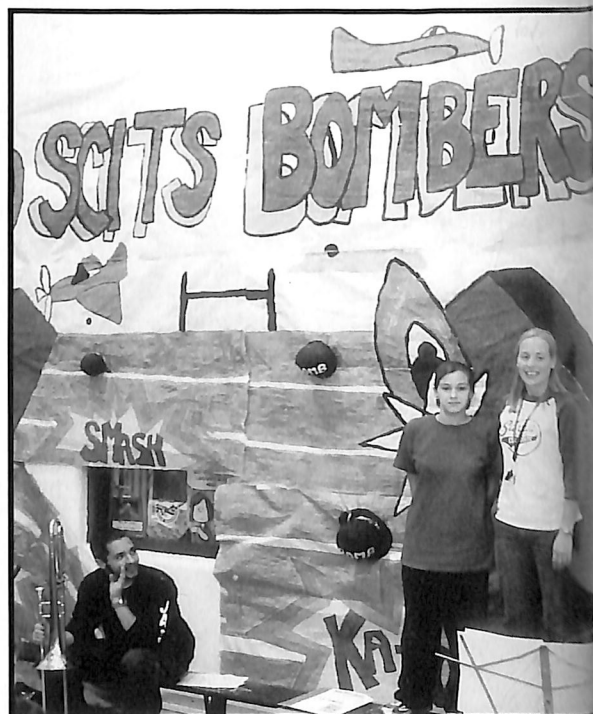

Top; The school's Fashion show which was a huge hit!

The TENNIS team braved a windy day to compete at the Sarnia Riding Club in the LSSAA Tennis championships. # Icing the Future

Pat's 3-1 (goals by Jeff McMillan, Darren Swartz and Scotty MacPherson) and Northern 6-3 (goal scoring contest by Scotty MacPherson 1, Darren Swartz 2 and Jeff McMillan 3). ## Girls Softball

As the season winds down our own Mr. Fillion and Mr. Dumas lead the girls through a home vs. home season during the waning months of the school year. Not only is this league full of amazing hitters and pitchers but it develops a strong sense of school spirit between the twenty-odd girls who participated in the teams every year. This year Mr. Fillion and Mr. Dumas were helped by the recent addition to the science department Ms. Parisiene. Great job this year girls, and we will see you in the spring!

With this being the first year that the legendary Billy Mac was absent the shoes were capably filled by the likes of Mr. Campbell and Mr. Cornell. Our relatively young team lead by Captain Aaron Allen and the recently acquired Carrillo Brothers. SCITS' great success in wrestling were continued with the addition of 7 girls and 10 new boys to the team. We performed admirably through the year, capturing many second and third place team titles behind the more numerous LCCVI Lancers. Personal bests were seen from many of our wrestlers both senior and junior wrestlers.

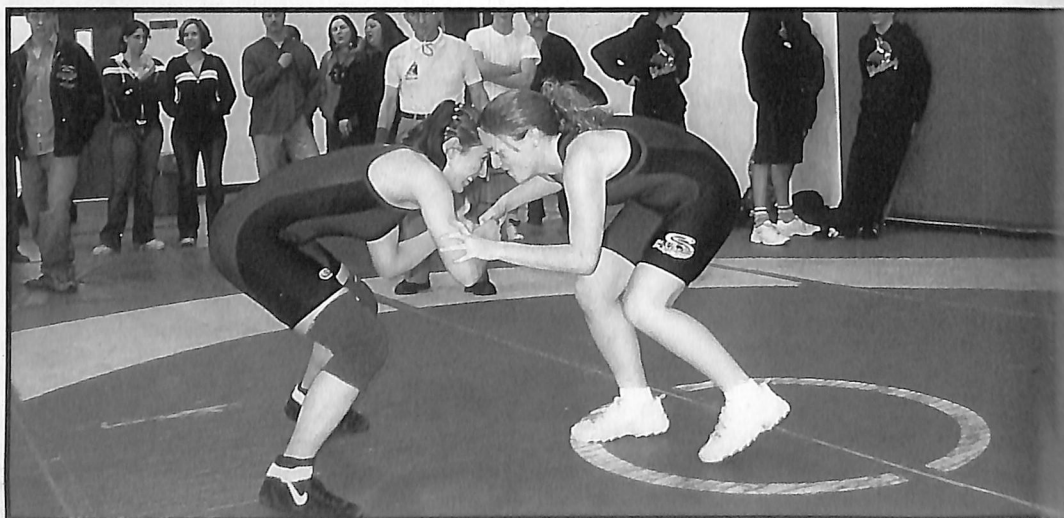

Dating back to the foundations of SCITS wrestling the captains are charged with gathering the wrestlers to go over strategy and remind them of the privilege of being a SCITS wrestler and what that means when they are on the mat.

Rinnier Carrillo demonstrates the proper technique for lacing the ankles on an unsuspecting St. Pats team member.

Michelle Vielle and Stacey Thompson square off against one another in the SCITS dominated 57 kg girls weight division.

With the corp of our team returning next year we will look for great year of personal bests and hope fully another increase in our OFSSA qualifiers. This year Aaron Allen, Yasser Carrillo and Lynne Donovan all qualified for the provincial High School Championship. Fortunately, there are no wrestlers graduating this year, meaning our team will present a veteran face to the competitions next year. As always the coaching staff is so proud of all our wrestlers and team members. Mr. C&C

Going the Distance

The FIELD and TRACK Team are always heading outside with the weather never bothering them and the constant competitions right around the corner. Mr. R. Harris, co-coached now by Mr. J. Skinner, who'll joined us from Alexander MacKenzie, will brought their expertise to our many competitors.

Mrs. M. Majeski was back to assist our runners and jumpers while Mrs. L. Amlin helped the high jumpers. The competition began with a small group attending the U. of Windsor Invitational Sat. Apr. 10. Greg Jillson was 3rd in the Senior Long Jump and 9th in the 60m dash. Josh Daye was 6th in the Senior 60m dash.

Andy Ysebaert was 5th in the Senior Shot Put while Lars Mortensen was 7th in the same event. Both Andy and Lars gave fine efforts in the 60m dash also. The track team had a tough schedule with the LCCVI LIT Meet closely followed by the St. Clair and St. Pat's Meets. The LSSAA Track Meet was a great showing for our team however only Andy Yserbart proceeded to OFSAA for us in the shot put.

The Year- book!!! And The People Behind the Pages

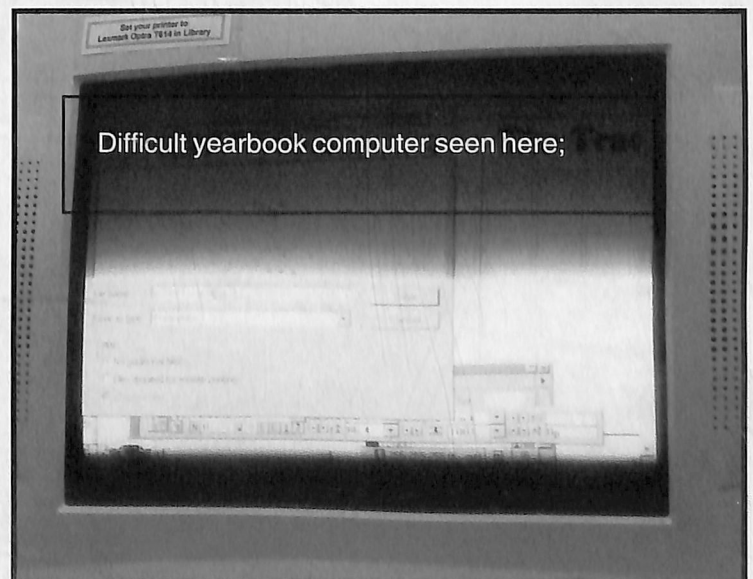

Page after page, the hours poured in, just to see all this in print. Constructing this year's book took a lot of work and possibly far too many lunch hours! However, it was an amazing experience. Ashley Winslow was editor with Jessica Helps as her lead assistant. There were many other hands that helped out along the way including Kolby Pugh, Tamara Eyre, Hayley Tuckey, Amanda Fillion, Kelly Mills, Jenn Bramhill, Kelly Curlew, Melissa Brooks-Morreau, and a few others here and there. Hopefully, we were able to capture the essence of SCITS and some help to remember all the great memories of the 2003-2004 year here at SCI. It was amazing, and perhaps when you look back at our 'creation' (the yearbook), you can remember what it was like to be Bomber.

ART AROUND SCITS

SCITS has many artists within its walls and those are also some of who have painted on the same walls. The Art Club was one thing to bring these artists together however too often left unsaid that friendship binds more than that. The SCITS art department has constructed some new and beautiful murals (all pictures on page). These have taken many hours to design and paint but were obviously well worth it.

The Wellness Committee of 2003/2004 consisted of: Hayley Tuckey, Tamara Eyre, Vanessa Vanpraet, Kolby Pugh, Rachanne Dunn, Mallory Procnier, Krista Campbell, Heidi Vallinga, Chantelle Mater, Cassie Matheson, Terri Willert, Heather Wiles, and teacher supervisor Mrs. l'Heureux.

SCITS WELLNESS

The Wellness Committee continued to educate SCI&TS students and staff about living well. With activities like National Students Against Impaired Driving Day, Christmas Hopes, hosting the LCSWC Week launch. The committee also had cookie-o-grams to send to friends for good luck on exams. The Wellness committee promoted healthy bodies, minds, and lifestyles.

The club was really all that their name implies, fellowship. A place to have friends and feel safe to discuss issues no matter if they were just small day-to-day things or controversial problems in society however to do so with their chosen faith in mind. There was even one meeting to discuss the movie Passion of The Christ produced by Mel Gibson.

The questions is usually "To be or not to be?" but this year it was bow and arrows, green tights and damsels in distress.

Robin Hood was one of the greatest stories ever told, and this November drama teacher and director Dan White brought the most infamous hero to the stage.

What they don't know is that in the castle up the hill, Nic Bishop (Prince John)(above right) is planning an evil plot to raise taxes and kill the hero of the play, his only way of reaching his goal of becoming the King of England.

Building a Dream

SCITS has placed first in their competition on "Strategy Sphere" at the Ontario Creative Problem Solvers Inc. Provincial Tournament, which was held on March 27th, 2004. Designing, engineering and building two devices that mechanically launch balls required a lot of thinking and trouble shooting on the part of Mike Bissonnette and Thomas Hurst. "Creativity at its best" is the theme of the team's presentation on how a change in the Earth's geosphere affects the Earth's atmosphere. Team-mates Mallory Procunier, Kolby Pugh and Becky Groendyk never ran short of ideas in putting the whole presentation together.

The SCITS Odyssey of the Mind team participated in the World Finals which were held at the University of Maryland in June 2004. The overall competition saw SCITS design a device that launched basketballs and another that retrieved them. After a week of fierce competition the team placed 8th in the World!!!

Way to Go Bombers!!!

Congratulations from Dr. Deol and a huge thank you to all of the teams sponsors, who paid for materials transportation and accommodations.

The Daily Bomber Newspaper & Young Writers

A student newspaper was attempted at SCITS in September 2003. Students wrote articles, stories, poems, while others drew art collected for a monthly newspaper named "The Daily Bomber." The paper only cost 25¢ - the price merely covered the copy and paper costs. Although, due to several reasons, including lack of interest from the other SCITS bombers, the paper closed in December.

The Daily Bomber included Erica Forbes, Sarah Baumbach, Jessica Helps, Rachel Raus, Magan Tremain, Tamara Eyre, and a few ghost writers.

Jessica Helps and Jenni Hopper on Club Day running the sign up table for Young Writers' Club.

The Young Writer's club was another attempt at a successful club. It was a peer run project, with voted president and vice-president (Jessica Helps, and Roberta Belton respectively).

However, because it was only during lunch hours it slowly became more of a eat and chat place (especially when its own president slowly stopped showing up for meetings).

Members did write some poetry, eventually, and most of which were submitted for contests, some of the English classes also submitted poems.

There were eight poems by SCITS students that were published in a book titled The Loon's Cry, an anthology composed by poetry entries for one of the contests. Jessica Helps, Sarah Beer, Chris Bramham, Amelia Jaques, Dillon Lambert, Allyssa Lovell, Melissa Boone, and Jason Cammidge were all published.

DEAD POET'S SOCIETY School Spirit - Edited Version from Issue 1 of the Daily Bomber By Jessica Helps

Justin was sitting at his desk, doing the work his teacher assigned, or at least trying to. His attention span was short today. He found writing the rough draft of his essay difficult. Most days he could write up something half-decent with little effort. He could excel if he chose to but for as much as he hated to admit he was afraid to; afraid of what his friends would say. He knew they were just having fun, and their intentions weren't to be cruel. He had made plenty of those remarks himself before, yet for some reason he wanted to avoid it just the same.

Annoyed with his writing task, he glanced around the room, and something caught his eye. He could have sworn he saw a girl standing near the door. She was wearing some SCI shirt that he had not seen before. When he went to take a second look she wasn't there.

"Hum," he murmured to himself, "that was weird." He glared back down at the lined piece of paper with nothing but his name and the date written on it. He couldn't get that strange girl from his mind, and he tried to tell himself it was just his imagination running wild. The girl had nothing to do with his writing assignment, which made him more annoyed by staring at the nearly blank paper in front of him.

The bell rang, class was over, books were packed, and away Justin went to his first floor locker. The assignment was just something else to add to his homework. "Hello Justin," someone said, the voice was female and familiar. "Hi Stacie," he said while he opened his lock. "You know it's School Spirit day tomorrow," She said.

Once he opened his locker he looked at her. It wasn't his girlfriend Stacie. It was the girl he seen in English class yet now that she was close, he noticed he could see right through her. Her brown hair was long and her ghostly hand whipped her hair back over her shoulders. Her bright blue eyes looked at him curiously as she smiled. This is unreal, he thought. He closed his eyes and opened them again. She was gone.

***

The following day was Friday, the year's first School Spirit day just like the ghost said. Justin didn't want to deal with friends teasing him for participating in such a school junction. He wore his normal clothes and claimed he had forgotten if anyone asked. The morning went normal enough, class, work, books, and all the rest. However, his friends appeared to have ditched him at lunch. They were supposed to meet him in the cafeteria. They ended up playing a practical joke on him - they had a water bottle and managed to get his jeans wet in a particular spot when they surprised him. He wasn't too amused. When he went to his locker to take out his gym shorts in order to get changed, and that girl was there at his locker waiting for him. It was evident that no one else could see her. "Who are you?" He whispered as he opened the locker. "The school's spirit... It's my favourite day, why did you forget?" "Well, I remember now," he whispered as he showed the ghost his 'blue bomber' shorts, careful not to look crazy to passerbys. "Only out of necessity," she sighed. "You had something to do with that didn't you?" "Perhaps, although, you have heard of the term 'self sabotage'?" "Have you ever heard of the term 'get a life'?" She scowled at him. Then she gave a mischevious smile and disapeared. Behind the ghost stood Stacie, Justin's girlfriend. She didn't look too pleased. "Did you just tell me to 'get a life' Justin?" I hate ghosts, he thought.

Dreaming

I close my eyes,
And drift away.
Leave this world,
For another day.

I raise my arms,
And start to fly
Above the trees,
Across the sky.

Ring of Colour,
And points of light.
Flying through space
All throughout the night.

Across the universe
And out of the blue,
I'm flying through space
And home...to you

Lauren Miller grade 9

Anytime you need me call
I'll be there, it's okay
Only a memory away

We've been together through good times and bad.

And you've always been there for me.
I will treasure the best friend I have,
Eternally.

I will only be a memory away
Anytime you need me call.
I'll be there, it's okay.
Only a memory away

-Maghan Tremain-

Forgotten

This is so painful
Just sitting here
No one around me
No one to care
It hurts me

Seeing her with you
It just kills me

Watching you hold her hand
You kissing her
She's kissing you
When you realize that
She's not hte one for you
You tell me everyuthing
You actually think I care
I loved you

You couldn't see this
Now, I'm all alone
And you cannot be with me
You were everything that I wanted
You're everything I ever needed
And you don't Give a Damn

Real Freedom

What is real freedom?

Real Freedom is the right to always choose.
Not a burka, but hairspray, bubble gum, and running shoes.

Real freedom is the right to laugh and play.
On the street, in the park, and at any time of the day.

Real freedom is the right to go to church anytime.

To worship, to sing, to hear the bells chime.
Real freedom is the right to make mistakes,
To break things, to mess up and to try whatever it takes.

Real freedom is the right to speak your mind.

To protest, to vote; the right to sign.
Real freedom is the right to be respected.
Not to be discriminated against, bullied, or neglected.

Real freedom is the right to live.
To breathe, to walk, to be me.

I want to be free

Look at this world
And what it's become.
It's turning into a terrible place,
Death and heartache everywhere.

Why do we do this to ourselves?
It makes no sense to me.
If only there was such a place
With laughter and with peace.
I've found myself caught
In this terrible world
That I cannot get out of.
Can you show me the way?

Find my way home to peace
Make my way home
And be happy again.
But where is home to me?

Is it where the birds sing a happy song,
Where the fish swim free in the sea?
Is it with the horses running along,
Being who they are, all wild and free?

I just want to be free
As free as can be
That's why I'm glad
That I'm just me.

The Cost of Freedom

I cry at night.
I cry for those who are imprisoned in a life that is not worth living
I don't suffer,
But I grieve the dead.
I pray for the souls
I hear a scream in my head,
I imagine the blood on my hands,
And I realize for once that, I am free
I wish they could be free
I wish they could taste it on their lips,
Feel it in their hands,
I wish that they could scream at the top of their lungs.
I wish they could spin really fast,
And could not feel a thing.
I wish they could know what it is like to be free.
Are they empty inside?
Do they feel nothing?
Have they just wasted away?
Is that what it is like to be a prisoner on your own country?
If you are not free,
Then are you anything at all?
Do the soldiers feel the same?
Do children of the world grieve their parents?
Or do they just wish upon a star,
That they will once again come home?
Have we once again forgotten what it is like to be free?
Are these the right questions to be asking?
Do we even have know the answers?
Or do we just take freedom for granted?

-Erica Forbes-

Le Droit de Vivre Est la Liberte

Je pleure la nuit.
Je pleure pour ce qui sont emprisonnes dans une vie qui n'a aucune valeur pour vivre
Je ne souffre pour les morts.
Je prie pour leurs âmes.
J'entends les cris perçants dans ma tête,
J'imagine le sang sur mes mains,
Et je réalise pour une fois celui,
Je suis libre.
Je souhaite qu'ils puissent être libre.
Je souhaite qu'ils puissent goûter sur les lèvres,
Sentir dans les mains,
Je souhaite qu'ils puissent crier haut des poumon.
Je souhaite qu'ils puissent tourner vraiment rapide,
Et ne sentent pas une chose.
Je souhaite qu'ils puissent savoir comment ce qu'il se sent d'être libre.
Sont-ils videe a l'interieur?
Ne sentent-ils rien?
Ont-ils rien?
Ont-ils juste gaspillé?
Est ce c'est comme ca qu'il est d'être un prisonnier son propre pays?
Si vous n'êtes pas libre, êtes-vous alors quelque chose tout?
Les soldats sentent-ils la même chose?
Les enfants du monde en deuil pour leurs parents?
Où est-ce qu'ils souhaintent sur une etoile,
De retourner à la mainson?
Avons nous encore une fois oublier comment être libre?
ISont-elles les bonnes questions de demander?
Savons-nous même les réponses?
Où juste prenon-nous la liberté comme si ca ne compte pas rien.
